THE MIRROR

1965

FOREWORD

AS we, the Class of Sixty-five, look ahead to our futures, we turn to many famous women, past and present, for inspiration. Their diplomacy, humanitarianism, and courage are qualities which evoke our admiration. Their excellence in the arts stimulates our appreciation. It is out of deep respect for such great leaders that we have chosen for our yearbook the theme Famous Women.

In our studies at Barnard we have been introduced to many eminent women, and we have been taught to value their contributions to the world. Those whom we present in the sketches are but a few who have inspired us during these, our impressionable years.

With both pride and pleasure we invite you to look into our Mirror for the reflections of some of the influences on our class.

Dr. Henrietta Roome

DEDICATION

WE, the class of 1965, with sincere appreciation, dedicate our yearbook to you, Dr. Roome. Your patience, your understanding, and your respect for students as individuals have guided us throughout our high school career. You represent the best of Barnard.

MARION A. DEAN
Headmistress

"So shalt thou find favour and good understanding in the sight of God and man."

Proverbs III, iv

IN MEMORIAM

MARGARET D. GILLETTE

who served as Headmistress of The Barnard School for Girls

1938—1958

For fourteen years before becoming Headmistress, Mrs. Gillette was a most capable teacher and Head of the Elementary School, which under her guidance provided an outstanding, forward-looking preparation for its students.

As Headmistress she had a talent for organization and an unusual foresight which brought to Barnard a reputation for strong scholastic standing among the private schools of New York City.

Mrs. Gillette was instrumental in founding the New York Guild of Independent Schools and served as its first president.

Her indomitable spirit and her steadfast loyalty to Barnard School were profound influences in the lives of three generations of Barnard School students.

Dr. Theodora Baldwin

1878—1965

who served as a devoted teacher

at The Barnard School for Girls for over forty years, who until her death remained deeply interested in the activities of the school, and in her own fine way reflected the spirit of

Barnard's school motto, "Diligence crowns her suitors."

First row, left to right—Dr. Roome, Mrs. Witteles, Mrs. Smith, Mlle. Leautier, Mme. Thomas.
Second row—Señora Javkin, Miss Nosser, Mrs. Crothers, Mrs. Otto, Mrs. Quinn, Mrs. Hatch, Mrs. Jost, Miss Sherman, Miss Bruens, Mrs. Heuss, Miss Siedler.

UPPER SCHOOL

LEST WE FORGET

As we put aside our fraying uniforms for graduation gowns, we remember . . . our freshman fears . . . on-again off-again geography classes . . . winning Archibald . . . art in the park . . . shoe changes on a public bus . . . senior slump in freshman year . . . trips with Miss Burrill . . . field day in May . . . Mystic and Sturbridge Village—Bobbi locked out on the terrace . . . "With our tests tucked underneath her arm" . . . Mr. Schlam's experimental Latin class . . . "I beg your pardon!" . . . "When that April with its sweet showers" . . . senior slump in sophomore year . . . cheerleading for the boys—you know, the Barnard School for Boys . . . the smell of a Meer-Schlam pipe . . . history classes in the round—a fire hazard . . . PSATs, SATs, Achievements, trimesters —CRACK . . . senior slump in junior year . . . "Don't you know your mother's maiden name yet?" . . . water-gun fights . . . trips to Stratford and bees in the orange drink . . .

Then the shock—the tragic day of November twenty-second we can never forget.

Ding-Dong school and lunch is over . . . only twenty-five cliques in the senior class . . . "It goes lub-dub, pause" . . . "Don't let your date drive if he becomes inebriated; learn to drive yourself." . . . THIRTY CHAPTERS of Biology in TWO DAYS? . . . navy blue knee socks are legal . . . new senior privilege—loafers . . . "I'm giving you five hundred years leeway, girls." . . . final exams and we take No-Doz for sound sleeping . . . "Red Roses for a Blue Lady."

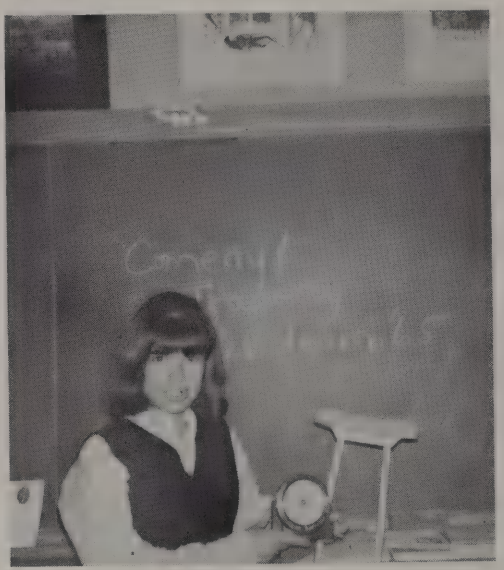
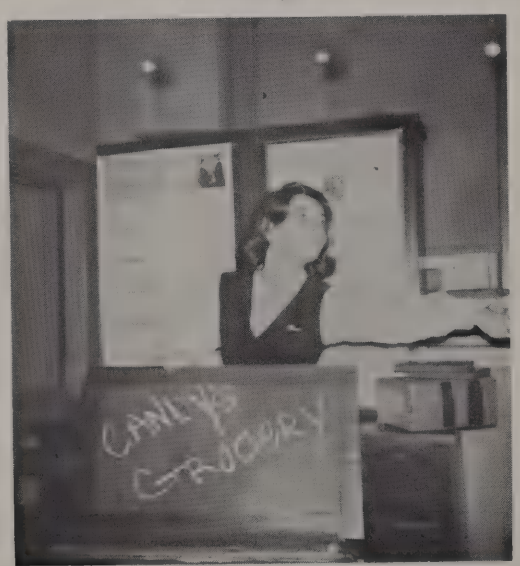
Peace and Serenity is the preservation of all mankind.

"Good things come in short packages?"

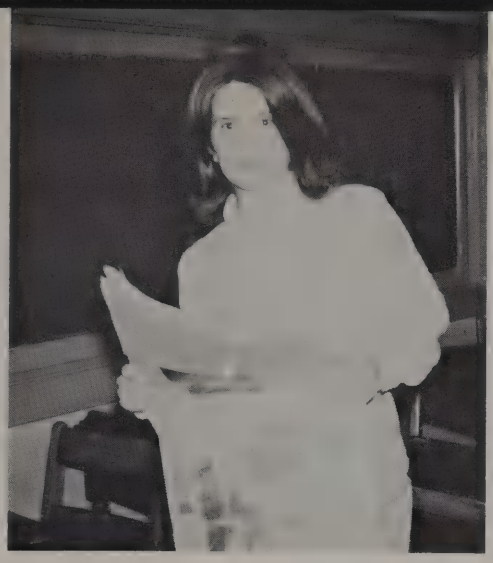


Once upon a time.

"Come and get it!"



"Was that the bell?"



"Where can I picket next?"

"What, me worry?"

"Three elephants—went out to play . . ."

"Me and my Teddy Bear"

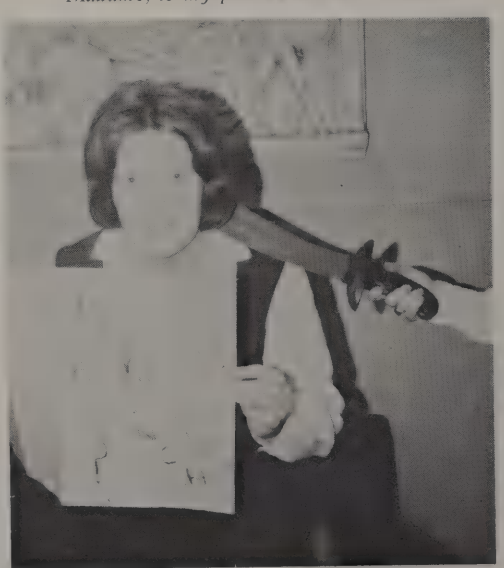
"Chin up, Virgil. It's not all that bad!"

The day after.

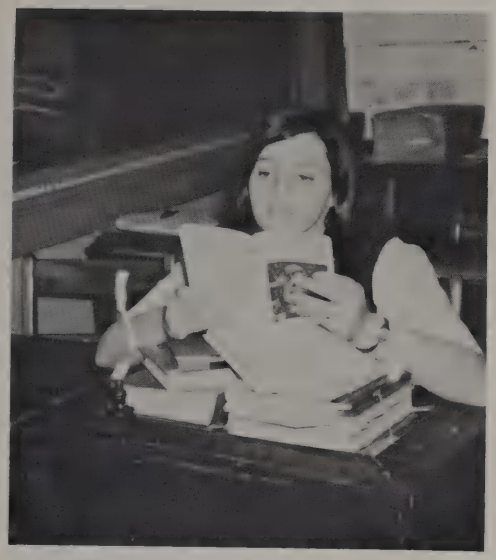
"The yearbook has to go to press!"

"Is the press really free?"

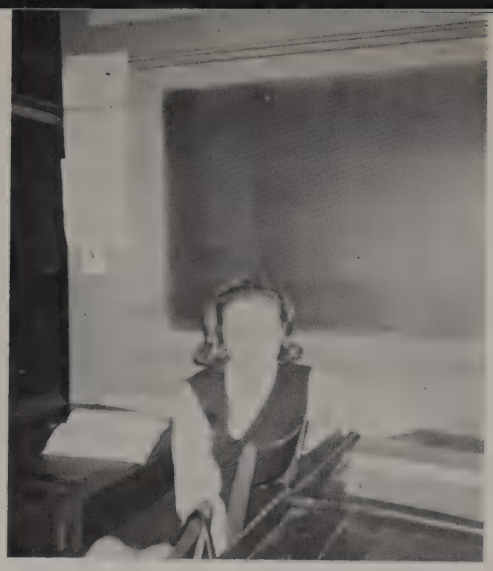
"Madame, is my pronunciation that bad?"



"At least the score was honest."



"Gee, I wish this book had pictures."



"Far from the madding crowd."

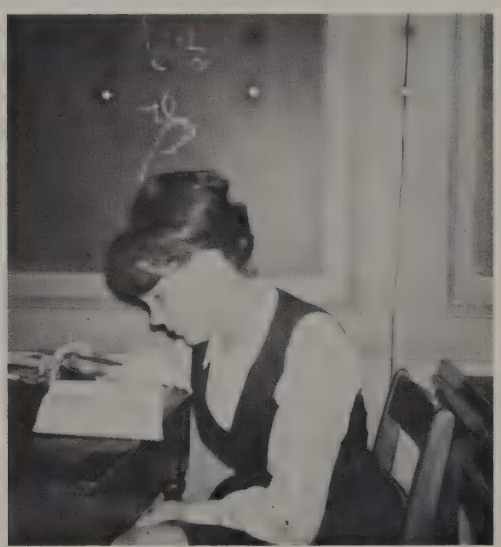
"It's only 3 a. m.!"

"A student government meeting now?"

"Somebody stand watch!"

Be the first on your block.

"Is something wrong?"



"Only 500 pages more."

"Lights—action—take 5!"

JUNIORS

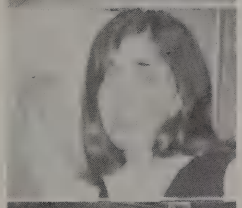
JUNIORS' FAMOUS WOMEN

Experienced in financial matters, Enid Karlan has been named Exchequer of Barnard.

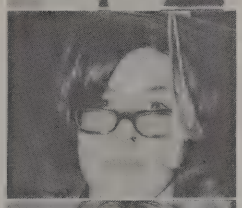
Observing Barnard students' apathy towards birds, Lorraine Rosal has formed a new branch of the A.S.P.C.A.—the Pigeon Protectors.

Because of her fluency in French, Deborah Eisenberg has been appointed America's Ambassador to France.

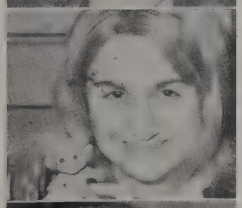
As a result of her experience at Barnard games, Amy Pritz has become a professional cheerleader.



Developing her business skills, Frances Saykaly has just become the Executive Secretary to Mr. S. Sales.



Recently appointed professor at Cornell University, Linda Zinman is now splitting hairs over mathematical calculations.



Capitalizing on the latest fads, Nola Soverio has become the leading manufacturer of nebishes and trolls.

At the height of her artistic career, Robin Siegel has just accepted the commission of painting a study-hall mural for her Alma Mater.

Cathy Nagy has just resigned as President of C.B.S. in order to become Editor - in - Chief of the New York Times.

Cathy Coumantaros has just received the Nobel Prize for her contributions to the field of chemistry.

Bonnie Rogal, a learned historian, has just completed her newest chronicle, A Concise History of World Civilizations.

Nicole Levy has continued to bake fine bread but with a revised slogan: "You don't have to be Jewish to like Nicole Levy!"

Following in the footsteps of Mrs. McGahan, Steffie Reiff has become a renowned dietitian.

Because of the success of her New York radio program, Cathy Laitman is joining ranks with the B.B.C.

Inspired by the accomplishments of Florence Nightingale, Georgeanna Tompkins has returned to Barnard as our new school nurse.

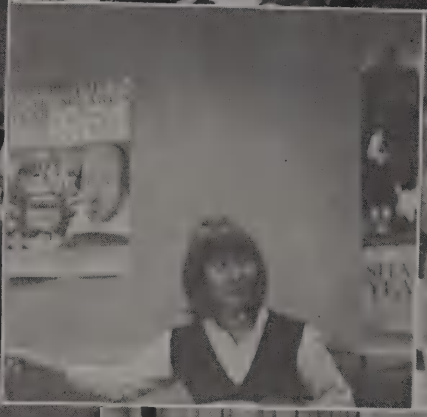
KINDERGARTEN



THE BARNARD SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

Founded 1896

Chartered Under the New York Regents 1935

554 FORT WASHINGTON AVENUE

Telephone SWinburne 5-1050

An Advantage

An unbroken progressive course.

Kindergarten

It is more than a nursery. It is a land of adventure.

Scholastic Standing

The school is an accredited member of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and of the New York Regents. The graduates of the school have been uniformly successful in entering college.

Buildings

The buildings are modern school buildings, completely equipped. The gymnasium is unusually large and airy, and is practically the school playground.
